

The joint 43rd Annual Meeting of the European Radiation Research Society and 20th meeting of the Gesellschaft für Biologische Strahlenforschung:
ERRS Young Investigator Award announcement

The ERRS is glad to announce that it will provide 20 awards to encourage young researchers in the field of radiation research worldwide to attend the joint ERRS-GBS meeting to be held in Essen (Germany), September 17-21, 2017.

The awards will consist of 500 € for ERRS members (at the date of abstract submission) or 450 € plus 2-year complimentary membership of ERRS for non-member applicants. Successful applicants residing in Germany will receive 400 € if ERRS members or 350 € plus 2-year subscription to ERSS.

Applicants must not be of no more than 35 years of age and must not hold a permanent position in any academic or research Institution. They will apply by checking the appropriate box in the Abstract Submission Form found on the Meeting Website (<http://errs-gbs-2017.eu/>) and uploading as a single

- A short CV
- A presentation letter of Head of Department/Group leader/Supervisor/Tutor or similar
- Justification for need

For further details, regularly visit the conference website at <http://errs-gbs-2017.eu/>

Dr. Lorenzo Manti
ERRS President
Physics Department, University of Naples Federico II
Naples, Italy
Phone:+39 081676262
E-mail: lorenzo.manti@unina.it